Jersey Cows Sell at Fair Prices.

Fifty-four head of Tennessee Jersey cows were sold Saturday afternoon at the livery stable of T. G. Morris on Main street by Auctioneer George D. Speakes. The prices obtained were very satisfactory. The range of prices were from $37.50 to $112.50, with the bulk of the sales around $65. The sale was attended by many buyers from surrounding counties.

Small Stable Burned.

The fire department was called out at eleven o'clock Saturday night in response to a telephone alarm. A small stable in the rear of the residence of the Misses Owens, on South Main street, was burned. A buggy the property of Miss Margaret Terry, which was in the stable, was also destroyed. A number of chickens, said to be in the building, could not be found in the ruins, which led to the belief that thieves had taken the chickens and in their hurry to get away had probably dropped a lighted match, starting the flames which consumed the structure.

Dies Suddenly of Heart Trouble.

Mr. Jasper Offutt, one of the most prominent farmers of the county and one of our most prosperous citizens, died suddenly about six o'clock Saturday afternoon as the result of an attack of heart trouble, while he was in Lexington on business.

Mr. Offutt was walking along Fifth street near Limestone when stricken. He was assisted to the home of Mayme Corbin, a colored woman.

When he was reached by the woman he was gasping for breath and asked for some place to sit. Saying he was very ill. The colored woman assisted him to her porch and went to telephone for an ambulance and for a physician. In the meantime Mr. Offutt lapsed into unconsciousness, and expired before help arrived.

Coroner J. D. Kiser, of Lexington, held an inquest over the remains Sunday afternoon and death was pronounced to be due to heart trouble.

Mr. Offutt, who resided on the Lexington pike near this city, was about sixty years of age. He was married and is survived by his wife, a sister, Mrs. Mary Ellen Bryan, of Georgetown, and a nephew, Dr. F. F. Bryan, of the same city.

Mr. Offutt was one of the most prominent and influential men of Bourbon county and his death came as a great shock to the many friends throughout the county.

The funeral services were held at his late residence on the Paris and Lexington pike yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. Dr. B. M. Shive, of the Presbyterian church. The body was laid to rest in the Wilson lot in the Paris cemetery.

The pall-bearers were Claude Paton, Aron Paxton, F. F. Bryan, Jr., J. H. Thompson, Luther Jacoby, John Brennan, H. Nichols and George O. Bryan.

Interurban Cars Collide.

A collision of two cars on the Nicholasville interurban line out of Lexington occurred Friday afternoon in Lexington and in which Conductor Soulesley was seriously injured. A work car was going into Lexington and the peculiar lay of land at the point where the collision occurred prevented the motorman from seeing the danger until it was too late to stop. Motorman Sanders of the outgoing car, narrowly escaped death by jumping after he had reversed the current and applied the brakes. The car was badly damaged and all the passengers severely shaken up but no one was injured.

A Good Move.

The considerable expense of the John Davey lecture at the court house Saturday night is borne by public-spirited citizens who believe that an aroused interest in the subject discussed will result in enough good to the county to pay for the effort.

Negro Horse Thief is Arrested.

Sherman Johnson, alias Wm. Payne, a negro, was arrested last week by Officer James Gibson, of North Middletown, and turned over to the authorities at Danville where he was wanted for stealing a horse and buggy from Mr. Joe Ware, of that city.

Johnson has been an offender in this part of the country for several years. About ten years ago he stole a horse from Mr. Jos. Hildreth, who lived near Paris, and was taken into custody by the officers at Mt. Olivet. He was convicted in the Robertson county court and served a term in the State penitentiary.

After being released from the penitentiary he returned to Bourbon county. Shortly after his return he stole a large quantity of grass seed during the harvest and to avoid arrest fled to Boyle county, where he assumed the name of William Payne. Under this alias he was convicted in the Boyle Circuit Court on a charge of forgery and served another term in the penitentiary.

When the term of his sentence expired he returned to Boyle county and last August committed the theft of a horse and buggy the property of Mr. Ware, and has since been a fugitive. Marshal Gibson, of North Middletown, had been furnished with a description of the negro by the Boyle county officials, who thought perhaps he would return to Bourbon, and the North Middletown officer has since been on the lookout. A few days ago he located Johnson and placed him under arrest. He was taken immediately to Danville where he was turned over to the Boyle county authorities.

Independent Meeting is Held.

A meeting of the independent tobacco growers of Bourbon county was held at the court house Saturday afternoon. About one hundred and fifty growers composed the enthusiastic gathering of the advocates of the cut-out movement and the opponents were conspicuous by their absence.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Kenney Nichols which was followed by the selection of Mr. Chas. Clark, of North Middletown, as chairman. Mr. Sherman Stivers was elected secretary. Mr. Clark addressed the gathering saying that from what transpired at the convention held in Paris last Saturday it was very evident the chairman was the entire show, but as there was nothing before the meeting that required the application of "railroading" tactics, he hoped the meeting would be one of harmony and free from the objectionable features that marked the convention held last week. Mr. Clark, who is an anti-pool man, declared that if the result of the cut-out pledge depended wholly upon his vote he would sign without hesitation, as his entire sympathies were with the movement. He then introduced Mr. Wilson.

Mr. Wilson addressed the growers at length and from every viewpoint of the subject before the meeting. He said that being a grower in the dark district he had come into the fight for a cut-out in the Burley district as a volunteer and had been honored with a position on the Campaign Committee of the Burley Tobacco Union. Feeling that the forces in the dark district had become thoroughly united in support of the movement, his attentions were directed to the doubtful portion of the Burley belt.

The effect of the failure of the cut-out movement in the Burley district would be keenly felt by the growers in the dark district, he declared, and in event of this failure tobacco would be grown in the Burley district and disposed of at a price below the cost of production. This, he added, would greatly decrease the price of tobacco in his district.

During the course of his address Mr. Wilson called the attention of those present to the men who were opposing the cut-out movement in Bourbon county. He said that they were the aristocratic land owners, men of wealth, and who cared nothing for the tenant other than that which they were enabled to acquire through his labor. He said the failure of the Burley pool could be laid at the door of Bourbon county, because it was this county that took the first step which resulted in its collapse. Only professional "dumpers," he said, sold their crops last year and fully eighty per cent of the crop of 1910 yet remained in the hands of the growers.

Mr. Wilson appealed to the growers of Bourbon county to come forward and sign the pledge, and not stand back when the majority of the counties in the tobacco growing district wanted to cut out the crop this year. He said there would be no doubt as to the success of the movement even though Bourbon refused to stand by the majority, as the day had come for the growers to stand shoulder to shoulder and fight for the common cause, and within ten days, he predicted, the success of the movement would be announced.

At the conclusion of his remarks, Mr. Wilson invited the growers present who had not signed the pledge to come forward. About five hundred acres were pledged to the cut out, which together with those secured at the meeting last Saturday and the pledges that have not been reported will bring the acreage to an approximate total 1,500, which is less than one-third of the acreage of the county.

After the meeting Mr. Wilson stated existing conditions in Bourbon county were due entirely to the fact that the pool men were not heartily in sympathy with the movement of the Burley Tobacco Union and instead of working as they should to further the cause in Bourbon were inclined to lay back in this meeting.

State Fair Dates are Changed.

The dates of the Kentucky State Fair will not conflict with those claimed by the Bourbon County Agricultural Society as was expected when the State Board at a meeting in Lexington recently changed the date of the State meeting to that previously held by the Bourbon board. At a meeting of the Board in Lexington Thursday the date of the State Fair was changed back to its original date of September 11.

Loses On Storage Butter.

Mr. C. P. Cook, of this city, sold to the White Baking Co., and the George Streitan Co., of Cincinnati, 3,000 pounds of cold storage butter which was shipped yesterday. Mr. Cook purchased the butter last spring at an average price of 20 cents per pound and it has since been in cold storage in this city. Since purchasing the butter the price has declined and Mr. Cook disposed of the product at 16 cents per pound, which means to him a loss of about $120 on the shipment.
